

SIGN POSTING

Sign posting is when you prepare your judges and audience for what you are going to talk about in the debate. It usually comes in the first part of your speech. You sign post before you say your arguments.

Ladies and gentlemen, today I am going to talk to you about Capital punishment and how it is bad for society.

My partner and I have three main arguments.

I will talk about argument one:.....

I will talk about argument two:.....

My partner will talk about argument three:.....

I will start with my first argument.....

I will now like to go onto my second argument that is.....

YOU know everything about your subject. YOU are the one in charge. The judges and gallery have to be enlightened about the subject. You're the expert. Teach them. Guide them through your side of the debate so they follow you.

Tell them what you're going to tell them.

Tell them.

Tell them what you told them.
